The Judicial Council has developed this handbook for statewide use by private conservators under Probate Code sections 1834–1835. The points of view, concepts, and practices expressed in this handbook do not necessarily represent the official position of the Judicial Council or its members.

This handbook is based on information available as of July 2002. Although the handbook is updated periodically, it is not possible to reprint it every time California conservatorship laws change. You should, therefore, consult your lawyer before you make important decisions as a conservator.

If you have suggestions or comments regarding this handbook, please write to the Administrative Office of the Courts, 455 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, CA 94102-3660.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Judicial Council and the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) wish to thank you, the conservator who will be using this handbook. First, thank you for agreeing to dedicate your time and effort to assist someone in need. Second, thank you for making the effort to use this handbook so you perform your conservator duties to the best of your ability.

We would also like to express our gratitude to all who helped to prepare this handbook. Thank you:

- To the members of the Judicial Council's 2002 Probate and Mental Health Advisory Committee, who generously devoted their time and expertise to this revised edition, especially attorney Peter S. Stern, Law Office of Peter S. Stern, Palo Alto; and the members of the advisory committee's Handbook Subcommittee and Advisory Group: professional fiduciary Judith Chinello, Chinello & Mandell Fiduciary Services, Glendale; attorney Susan T. House, Hahn and Hahn, LLP, Lawyers, Pasadena; and Mary Joy Quinn, Director of the Probate Department of the Superior Court of California, County of San Francisco.
- To attorney Bettie Baker Marshall, Law Office of Bettie Baker Marshall, Campbell; Felicia Brown, Supervising Court Investigator, Superior Court of California, County of Santa Clara; and Emily Stuhlbarg, Stuhlbarg & Associates, Torrance, professional fiduciary and 2001–2002 President of the Southern Region of the Professional Fiduciary Association of California.
- To the members of the former Advisory Committee on Conservatorships, whose unstinting efforts produced the first edition of this handbook, especially to Judge James A. Jackman (Ret.), Superior Court of California, County of Orange, who served as committee chair; to Judge Barbara J. Miller, Superior Court of California, County of Alameda, the committee's vice-chair; to subcommittee leaders Judith Chinello, Susan House, and Commissioner Julee Robinson, Superior Court of California, County of Orange; and to the first edition's principal authors, Wayne Anthony, Bonnie Darwin, Eric R. Gelber, Lynn H. Goldis, Pamela J. Jester, Janet Morris, Orah I. Young, and Mozell Zarit.
- To others who were instrumental in producing the first edition of this handbook: project manager Ben McClinton, AOC Office of the General Counsel, for his leadership and his diligent supervision of the entire project; Pat Lerman, for rewriting and editing the manuscript and for translating technical material into plain English; and Deanna Marquart of Marquart Policy Analysis Associates, the former advisory committee consultant, for organizing the material and for pulling all the various information and fragments of paper into early drafts of the manuscript.

- To the California Legislature and to former Senator Henry J. Mello and the conservatorship workgroup, who proposed, sponsored, and passed the legislation requiring this handbook, for their foresight and their understanding of the needs of a largely voiceless but growing segment of our community.
 - To the Probate Department of the Superior Court of California, County of San Francisco and its court investigator's office, for its 1989 local handbook that provided the structure on which the first edition of this handbook was built; and to Judge Isabella Horton Grant (Ret.), Mary Joy Quinn, and attorney W. Scott Thomas, who prepared the San Francisco handbook.
 - To the Alameda County Bar Association and its numerous generous supporters, including the Executive Committee of the Estate Planning, Trust, and Probate Law Section of the State Bar of California, for producing the excellent videotape With Heart: Understanding Conservatorship, based on the first edition of this handbook, and for making the tape available for distribution to all California superior courts; to Judge Barbara J. Miller, for initiating the videotape project; and to Jaime Kibben of Studio Caribe, who wrote the script and directed the video.
 - To the members of the AOC Office of the General Counsel who have worked on the 2002 edition of this handbook, especially Douglas C. Miller and Patrick O'Donnell, attorneys and project managers; Douglas W. Coffee, attorney; secretarial staff members Lisa McLaughlin and Donna Randolph; and staff of the AOC's Editing/Graphics Group.
